

Modern Slavery Statement

Merefield's Electronics is a distributor of electronic components, and services are supported by a global supply chain.

Merefield's is committed to conducting business ethically and upholding basic human rights in its operation. Merefield's does not tolerate the use of human trafficking, modern slavery or child labour in its operations or supply chain.

Merefield's Electronics encourages employees and suppliers to report any suspected human trafficking related activity, and will never knowingly do business with customers, suppliers and other business partners who do not comply.

Byrom Boutorabi

Director

November 2020

